

The Carmel Pine Cone Cymbal

The Editor's

Column

Choice Must Be Made Soon

In eleven days Carmel will troop to the polls and elect three city councilmen. Four men are running: Bernard Rowntree, incumbent, Eben Whittlesey, Frank Hefling and Allen Knight. Last week the mayor made his choice which was printed in the Pine Cone-Cymbal. Next week, this paper will publish its choice. Meanwhile, the Candidates' Column which appears in this issue and will also appear in the next, is open to all four candidates so that their supporters can give their reasons for believing that they should be elected. We feel that this is the only fair policy since we enjoy the privilege of being the only Carmel newspaper and could not in justice deny space for any candidate to put his qualifications before the voters. Therefore, we invite contributions to the column and urge that the views therein expressed be given thoughtful consideration by Pine Cone-Cymbal readers.

League Giving Genuine Service

Though it's too late to register to vote in the city election, registration for the state primaries does not close until April 6, and the League of Women Voters is doing everything possible so that every Carmel adult may vote.

An information table has been set up in front of the Bank of Carmel where people may learn where to go in town to register, how to go about getting absentee ballots, and may find out, if they can't recall whether they voted in the last election, if they are still registered or must re-register in order to vote in the forthcoming election.

The service is especially valuable in the guidance it gives on absentee voting procedure because of the number of army and navy people in town who have not been here long enough to establish residence so they may register to vote in this state.

As a safeguard of the league's well-established non-partisan policy, the organization has chosen as its representatives at the information table Miss O. B. Haseltine, a leader among the Republicans in town and Mrs. Perry Newberry, prominent in Democratic activities.

How's About a Kite Fanciers' Club?

That adults who had the temerity to build kites and fly them at the kite festival Saturday experienced such obvious enjoyment that they aroused the friendly envy of a number of kiteless by-standers who murmured regretfully, "I wish I'd made a kite," and then added in justification, "Well, I would have if I'd known how—or had the tools."

At least one of those who did make a kite, didn't know how when she started. She accepted the invitation extended several weeks before the festival by Ernest Calley to adults to use the

Dick Kelley's Dad Gets Silver Star For Gallantry

Colonel Gerard W. Kelley, Regimental Commander of the 165th Infantry, U. S. Army, whose wife and ten-year-old son, Dick, make their home at San Carlos and Fourth streets in Carmel, has been awarded the Silver Star for his valorous part in the capture of Makin Atoll last November, at which time he held the rank of Lt. Colonel.

The citation accompanying his medal reads as follows:

"For gallantry in action at Makin Atoll, Gilbert Islands, 20-24 November, 1943. Soon after the landing of the 165th Infantry on Makin Atoll, the Regimental Commander (Col. Gardiner Conroy) was killed, at which time Lt. Col. Kelley, then commanding the First Battalion, assumed command of the regiment. He immediately pressed the attack forward, visiting personally all points of the front where the advance was momentarily held up. Throughout the ensuing three days, he was constantly in evidence where the fighting was heaviest, continually exposing himself to enemy fire and directing the action with coolness (Continued on page 3)

U. C. Economist Is Next Forum Speaker

Post-war Readjustments in California will be the topic for the next meeting of the Carmel Forum, which will be held next Tuesday evening, April 4, at eight o'clock in Sunset Auditorium. The speaker is Dr. Malcolm Davisson, Professor of Economics at the University of California, who has made an extensive study of the impact of war and war industries in the west.

TOO BAD THE EASTER BUNNY DOESN'T BRING FURNITURE

The high school students' plans for a big and industrious Easter Week are likely to come to nothing if Carmel adults do not respond more warmly to their appeal for club house furnishings. All set with paint brushes, hammers, needles and thimbles, the young people had planned on spending the Easter recess in refurbishing their club house, painting, patching and repairing the furniture that they had trustfully expected Carmel citizens would donate from their attic and basement overflow. Perhaps nobody in Carmel has any household equipment they are not using. In that case, nothing can be done about it. But if it is a matter of the adults' being so occupied with other affairs that they have forgotten the young peoples' appeal, there is still time.

Lamps, chairs, tables, rugs, couches, day beds, game tables, card tables and games are needed. Anyone who has any of these articles to spare has only to call the high school, 1343, Mrs. J. O. Handley, 1363-W or Mrs. Howard Monroe, 288, and a crew of students picked especially for their athletic prowess will not only call for the articles, but will go into the basement or attic where they are stored, wrestle them out from under grandmother's trunk and the black walnut wardrobe and cart them away in a truck.

They are our youngsters. This clubhouse is a dream that has been two years in the realization. It would be a pity to allow stored furniture to become termite fodder when it is needed so badly. —W. C.

Fr. O'Connell, Frederick Godwin Attend Launching

Mission San Carlos de Borromeo—Carmel Mission—was honored on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 28, when the U. S. Maritime Commission Tanker, S. S. Mission Carmel was launched by the Marinship corporation at Sausalito, the event marking also the second anniversary of Marinship's ground breaking.

Present from Carmel for the ceremonies were Mr. Harry Downie, Mr. Fred Godwin, representing Mayor P. A. McCreery, and Father Michael D. O'Connell, who was introduced by Chief Engineer Bruce Vernon, in charge of the launching program, as the Priest who is now carrying on the work begun by Fr. Serra, who founded the Mission in 1770 and is buried there. Master of Ceremonies Vernon also paid tribute to Carmel, "world famous as a beauty spot and as a center of culture and the arts."

Sponsor for the S. S. Mission Carmel was Mrs. W. B. Lardner of Marin City, whose husband and two of whose eleven children are

Wm. Bishop Offers Free Use of Lot, Tools, for V-Garden

A city lot within two blocks of Ocean avenue is available free of charge to anyone in Carmel who wants to use it to raise a victory garden this summer. The lot has water piped to it: A hose and garden tools, even seed will be furnished. The land is in full sun throughout most of the day and was used to raise a successful victory garden last year.

The offer, with no strings attached, was made this week by William Bishop, proprietor of Bishop's Restaurant. He has no time to raise a garden this year and does not want to see the lot, which is on San Carlos between Fifth and Sixth, lie idle, so he will turn it over for garden purposes to any individual who wants it, throwing in the use of hose, garden tools and some seed he has on hand. The gardener will be required to pay for the water, but that is all. If the space, 100 by 40 feet should be too large to interest any one individual, Bishop says several may plant individual gardens on the lot. Or it can be used for a communal garden by a group of adults or by the Boy or Girl Scouts if they are interested.

Adventure Story Author Visits Francis Shea

Major Laurie York Erskine, U.S. Army, of New York, noted author of the Renfrew series of books about the Canadian Mounted Police and writer for the Boys' Life magazine, was the guest over the past weekend of Francis Shea, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Shea of Carmel.

Major Erskine's visit, made while enroute to his new Army post, came as a result of a correspondence he has maintained with Francis over the past year and a half, ever since the boy wrote to demand why Adventure Stories, a popular broadcast series of the author over the major networks, had been discontinued.

Major Erskine's visit was a complete surprise to Francis, announced by a telephone call from San Francisco on Friday. He took his guest on a sight-seeing tour of Cypress Point, the Highlands and Point Lobos and Del Monte and in turn was given much sound advice about writing in general and especially about the available material on Haiti and the Caribbean, his favorite study at present.

NOTICE OF POLLING PLACE

Voters will know this week, by receipt of a postcard from the City Clerk, that they are eligible to vote at the city election.

The notice will indicate to which of the two Polling Places the voter should go. Those registered in Precincts north of Ocean avenue must vote at the Fire House, and those registered in Precincts south of Ocean avenue must vote at the Masonic Hall.

It is suggested that anyone who has previously voted in Carmel and who does not receive a postcard notice should see the City Clerk who has the corrected Precinct registers and can verify any doubtful cases.

Jelich Trial Starts Tuesday; 80 on Venire

Grievances and resentments that have been simmering for nearly a month in Carmel will be brought out in orderly array for the consideration of a jury to be selected Tuesday morning at 10:00 when the trial of Carmel Police Officer Edward Jelich opens in Judge Ray Baugh's justice court in Monterey. Jelich is charged with using undue violence in the arrest of Mrs. Fred Horne for a minor traffic violation March 8.

Against the advice of her doctor, Mrs. Horne who spent part of last week in the Peninsula Community Hospital, is not asking for a postponement, though one was asked and granted for her hearing on the traffic charge which was to come up before Judge George P. Ross last Wednesday. The date for the traffic hearing has been set for April 11 at 10 o'clock in city hall. Mrs. Horne has pleaded not guilty to the charge of failing to make an arm signal and will be represented by Attorney Eben Whittlesey.

The opening day of the criminal case coming up in Monterey Tuesday will probably be largely occupied with selecting a jury, no easy task since feeling has run high over the affair and twenty-eight of the venire are Carmel citizens.

District Attorney Anthony Brazil will prosecute, while defense will be in the hands of Monterey Attorney Ralph O. Marron.

The city council to whom Mrs. Horne first appealed for redress immediately after her arrest in which she charges Jelich used unnecessary violence faded out of the picture when District Attorney Anthony Brazil brought criminal charges against Jelich. Nevertheless, the council is committed to take some action on a report of (Continued on page 12)

Oliver Bassett Gets Recognition At City Art Show

Honorable Mention has been awarded to Oliver Bassett, Carmel high school junior, for his painting, the Old Barn, a view of the Betty Greene Stables, appearing in the Northern California Regional Scholastic Art exhibition at the John Breuner gallery in Oakland during the current month.

In addition to the embossed Honorable Mention document, with its official seal, a gold pin was given by the judges and presented to the young artist by Superintendent J. W. Getsinger at last week's high school assembly.

Oliver Bassett's painting was the only entry from Carmel high school accepted for the Oakland exhibition.

Mrs. Cleaveland Speaker for Republican Club

The Monterey Peninsula Republican Women's club meets this afternoon at 2:00 in the House of the Four Winds in Monterey.

Great Basso Wins High Approval of Carmel Audience

By RACHEL MORTON

We are deeply indebted to the Carmel Music Society for a most thrilling concert last Sunday afternoon, when Ezio Pinza, basso, presented a program of songs. We, who heard this internationally famous singer (and we were a capacity audience, plus three extra rows of chairs) heard one of the finest vocal instruments of our day, recalling those vocal giants of other days, Battastini, Edouard De Reszke, and Chaliapin. As the first notes rolled out like the tones of a great cathedral organ, caressing our ears, a great quiet fell on the audience, which prevailed throughout the singing, giving place at the close to tumultuous stamping of feet.

Ezio Pinza is not an unusually tall man, but on the stage, he seems tremendous. His fine head, his supple body, his magnificent carriage and his dominating personality command respect before ever a note is sung. Then comes the gorgeous tone, like crackling fire, with its beautiful legato line and the perfect production. When he uses sotto voce and the voluptuous tone hangs on the breath, one almost hears Chaliapin again.

The Italian songs are, of course, Pinza's best because he was born in Italy and is still very Italian.

In the first group of Italian songs I was impressed by the variety of color, by the amazing flexibility of the great voice and by the holding of the mood, even through the interludes of accompaniment. "Dormi Amore" by da Gagliano was sung in an exquisite pianissimo.

What a beautiful song is Hahn's "Trois Jours Le Vendage." The accompaniment set a mood of mourning in the opening passage that gave birth to a heroic portrayal by Pinza. And in tremendous contrast was the next song "L'Heureux Vagabond" by Brueneau. The familiar "Plaisir D'Amour" by Martini set forth new subtleties in the pleasures of love and the bitterness of disillusionment.

In these war-minded days the "Au Pays" by Holmes had a martial "feel," with the distant oncoming soldiers and their final disappearance. This was most effectively accomplished by Mr. Gibner King, the accompanist, and Mr. Pinza added a bit of his rare humor in the shrunken attitude of the faithless wife.

Of the songs in English (not very understandable) the one by John Alden Carpenter called "To One Unknown" was to my mind the finest in its plaintive spell-weaving charm. But the audience seemed to like best the almost popular "Do You Remember" by the pianist, Micha Levitski. The drinking song which closed the program brought tremendous applause and an encore, the spiritual "Thunderin' Wonderin'" was sung so feelingly that even the singer's body seemed weighted with a load.

The final group of Italian songs had contrast enough for any taste. Beginning with "I Due Turci," an absurd tale of two worms destroying the brain and books of a genius, there luckily followed the rollicking "Serenata" by Tosti. In place of the printed "Non Ho Parole" Mr. Pinza sang the superb "Fiocca la Neve" by Cimara. No falling flakes of snow were ever softer, purer, nor more glistening than were the tones which fell from the singer's lips. And then the greatest moment of all came with the singing of the last number, the aria from Simon Boccanegra by Verdi. Ezio Pinza could surely enter the Pearly Gates with such a passionate outpouring of grief and repentance. Never will I forget the last phrase "pregar per me" (Pray for me).

There were three choice encores, "The Flea" sung in English, "The Horn" with its low D, sung in French, and an inimitable rendering of the humorous Leporello aria from Don Giovanni which gave us glowingly the unparalleled operatic Pinza.

Of the accompanist, Gibner King, I personally, felt him to be the finest accompanist I have heard in any of the Peninsula concerts. Added to his magnificent support of the singer and sympathetic understanding of the song, there was a virtuosity in his piano playing known only to soloists.

San Grow Not Ready Yet for Gardeners

San Grow will not be available to local gardeners for at least a month, Councilman Bernard Rowntree said this week.

Last fall, when Rowntree offered the free fertilizer to any Carmel residents who would come out to the reduction works to get it, the entire supply was carted off within a few weeks. With the arrival of good gardening weather this month, Rowntree has been besieged with telephone calls requesting the fertilizer.

There is plenty on hand but it is not available for use because there has not yet been a long enough period of dry weather. If there is no rain for a month, gardeners may then start coming to the Sanitary plant to get it. They are asked to phone the Carmel Sanitary District, 88-W before driving out to the plant.

employed at Marinship, and maid of honor was Miss Anita L. Rhodes, a draftsman with Marinship.

The selection, American Prayer, was sung by Miss Jeanette Hopkins, mezzo-soprano of the San Francisco Opera association. Welcome was expressed by R. W. Adams, employee relations manager and the flag was raised by a group of Boy Scouts of Sausalito Troop 8 under the direction of Scoutmaster Loren L. Jay. Following the invocation by Chaplain L. M. Brehaut, Lt. (j.g.) U.S.N.R., an address was given by Carl W. Flesher, regional director, U. S. Maritime Commissioner. The launching procedure was explained by Marine Engineer M. W. Torbet, a bottle of California champagne was broken over the bow of the vessel by Mrs. Lardner, and as it slid down the ways, the new S. S. Mission Carmel was blessed by Father O'Connell.

The birthday party spirit was heightened by the picture of a cake with two candles painted on the bow of the ship.

MRS. MORGAN RECOVERING

The many friends of Mrs. Charlotte E. Morgan, well-known Carmel artist, will be happy to know that the fractured right arm which she sustained in an accident at her Lincoln street home last Friday is progressing satisfactorily toward recovery.

Local Fishermen Get Fall Closure Of Carmel Lagoon

With the concurrence of local sportsmen, the State Fish and Game Commission this week officially closed the Carmel River mouth to trout fishing in the fall, limiting fishing from the bar to the highway bridge to May, June and July.

The fall closure had originally been recommended by the Monterey Peninsula Sportsmen's Club, the Carmel Business Association and the State Division of Fish and Game.

However, early in March a group of San Francisco sportsmen, headed by Robert L. Mann protested the fall closure at a meeting in San Francisco. As a result of this action, George P. Miller hastily called a meeting in Monterey, March 22 to learn the wishes of the local fishermen. Not a protest was registered against the fall closing. Even Carmel sportsmen who had at one time favored an open season in August, September and October on the grounds that at this season the school children would be on vacation and could enjoy the fishing, had switched to the other camp.

Local fishermen point out that though the fish are larger in the fall, they are soft because of the warm and semi-stagnant condition of the water backed up behind the bar and are not fit to eat; also, fall fishing results in a wholesale slaughter of young steelhead that should be allowed to go out to sea when the bar opens so they can reach maturity and return as game fish that will give real sport to the fishermen.

Red Cross

By HELEN A. FIELD

The Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross is proud of the great interest shown in the Nurses Aide classes given at Headquarters. One class of fifteen has just completed the class work part of the course and is now ready for practical work in the hospital. The Nurses Aides already at work there will have a three week's vacation while the new ones take over the duties in order that full status as Nurses Aides may be attained. The patients will enjoy seeing new faces, perhaps as much as the new workers will enjoy their new activities. It is indeed a fine situation in which one may serve the great need for care of the sick and at the same time get great personal satisfaction from performing the duties involved.

The Capping Ceremony was held at Headquarters on Wednesday, March 29th. Mrs. Kent Parrott, Chairman of Nurses Aides, presided. Miss Jane Burritt, Chapter Chairman, and Mrs. Hobart Prince, Chairman of Volunteer Special Service gave short talks. Miss Smits of the Peninsula Community Hospital then capped each member of the class. The fifteen graduates were: Mrs. John W. Anderson, Mrs. George E. Ernst, Mrs. Jack Farley, Mrs. William E. Gunther, Mrs. Russell Houghton, Mrs. Karl Kurth, Mrs. J. F. Lord, Jr., Mrs. James Newby, Mrs. Kate V. Martin, Mrs. Ruhl Russell, Mrs. Walter Skielvig, Mrs. James B. Sorenson, Mrs. T. F. Sourisseau, Mrs. Richard I. Taylor, Jr., and Mrs. James C. Truscott.

An innovation in the time for holding classes for training Nurses Aides is to be inaugurated on April 17th when, under the able instruction of Mrs. Briggs, a night class will begin. Classes will be held Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m., for a period of three weeks, to be followed by evening practice at the hospital. If you are interested in becoming a member of this class register at once at Red Cross Headquarters.

The Home Nursing Class will hold its closing exercises at Carmel Red Cross Headquarters on April 6th at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested is welcome.

PULLIAM GUEST SPEAKER

Sic Transit Gloria was the theme of a talk by William E. Pulliam at the Tuesday night dinner of the Carmel Lions club when he recounted recollections of public figures who once loomed large on the American horizon, Charles Evans Hughes and Andrew Mellon.

Guest of the Lions was Al Sparks, now serving in the United States Marines.

Dr. Hugh Dormody, Running for Senate, Speaks at Demo. Meet

Dr. Hugh Dormody of Monterey announced his candidacy for the State Senate from this district, at the meeting of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club last week. He has served for six years on the county central committee of the party, and recently resigned the chairmanship when he decided to run for office. Senator E. H. Tickle of the Carmel Highlands has announced he will not run for re-election.

Dr. Dormody emphasized the importance of honest government, the need for putting the right type of persons in office. He believes a legislator should keep in touch with all his constituents, should represent all the people, not just a part of them. Only by truth, honesty, and sincerity on the part of public officials can good government be attained. He was a casualty of the first World War and received a disability discharge from the army. He obtained his medical education under the government's program of rehabilitation of demobilized soldiers after the war, and in recent years has been active in Democratic circles in the county.

Succeeding Dr. Dormody on the county central committee is Mrs. P. G. Emmons of Salinas, who becomes county chairman of the campaign to re-elect George Outland to the House of Representatives from this district. Each of the four counties in the district will have a chairman, and Mrs. Emmons will coordinate the work in Monterey county with that in the others. The first essential is to get every adult citizen to register by April 6, and next in importance is to get everyone out to the polls. The advance of the state primaries from August to May necessitates concentrated effort by the leaders of the political parties efficiently to carry on the work of the campaign.

and disregard for danger. His presence with the assault forces and his personal actions did much to establish confidence and heighten the morale of the troops."

Colonel Kelley's promotion came immediately following the action at Makin.

A West Point graduate with the class of 1925, Colonel Kelley was a member of the New York National Guard at the outbreak of the war. During the first year he was stationed at Fort McClellan, and his family left New York to establish itself in Atlanta. Following his transfer to Fort Ord two years ago, Mrs. Kelley and their young son came to live in Carmel, where Dick Kelley is now a student at the Notre Dame school. Since Col. Kelley's departure for the South Pacific theatre of the war on March 9, 1942, he has been home on leave once, for two weeks of last July.

Miss Carmel Snow, editor of Harper's magazine, spent the past week at Lobos Lodge, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Tirey Ford.

Bargains In Homes

We offer two of the very best bargains in Carmel today. One house handsome and formal. The other cheerful and Carmelish. Each has four bedrooms, three baths, double garage. Each has central heating plant. Plenty of garden space, with some planting already in.

Land and cost of construction of the formal house in normal times would be not under $13,500. Cost to reproduce the other $11,500. Priced much under those figures.

Jelich Trial Starts Tuesday

the incident submitted by Councilman Bernard Rowntree at a special meeting March 17 which was set aside for further study. Two of the councilmen, Mayor P. A. McCreery and Commissioner of Police Bernard Rowntree, have already committed themselves by making a statement that from the evidence in their hands they see no reason for the District Attorney's bringing the criminal action against Jelich. Whether the other three councilmen will concur with them remains to be seen when the council meets April 5.

CANDIDATES COLUMN

BERNARD ROWNTREE

Any word of praise for Bernard Rowntree or recommendation of him for election to the City Council should properly be signed by the whole community. Everyone who has followed the affairs of Carmel through recent years must appreciate how disinterested a public servant he is, how careful and wise in his judgments, how thorough in the performance of his duties and how sincere in considering the interests of the city as a whole.

Since not every citizen, however, can conveniently sign a statement in his favor, it may perhaps best be signed by one who has sat at the Council table with Bernard Rowntree and knows at first hand his unwavering devotion to the spirit of Old Carmel.

—Clara N. Kellogg

EBEN WHITTLESEY

It is seldom a young, professional man with education, training and native ability far above the ordinary will consider becoming a member of the village council.

Carmel will be most fortunate to have the benefit of Eben Whittlesey's legal knowledge, his ability to analyze a situation and to make fair and just decisions.

As far as keeping the Carmel traditions, some of the more recent arrivals who came here to live because of the rare charms are more energetic when it comes to "doing something about it" than some old residents who have become opinionated, complacent and self-satisfied.

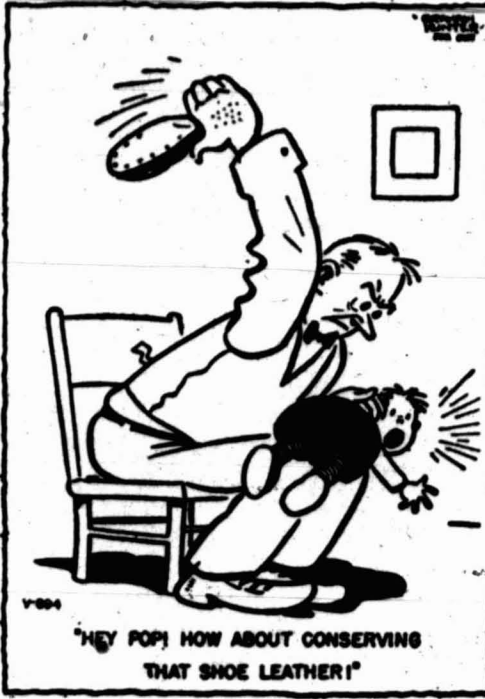

Let us elect Mr. Eben Whittlesey to the Village Council, Tuesday, April 11.

—Daisy B. Taylor,
Resident of Carmel
for twenty years

FRANK HEFLING

I was asked why I circulated the petition of Frank Hefling for nomination as a member of the Carmel Council. The answer is a simple one. I have known Frank intimately for the past twelve years and have found him to be an honest and courteous gentleman on all occasions, one with both feet planted on the ground and not with his head in the clouds.

Next to his family he loves Carmel, and has often told me the Village should be allowed to grow just as it is with out any drastic changes, with our beautiful beach free from merry-go-rounds and popcorn vendors and our tap rooms under rigid control. I am perfectly satisfied that with such gentleman sitting on the council with our hold-over members, the situation will be fully under control.

ALLEN KNIGHT

It has been my privilege to file the nomination paper of Allen Knight for the office of City Councilman in the coming election of April 11. Mr. Knight has already made a fine record in the services he has given the community and the county, and has agreed to give further of his time for the people of Carmel.

Having lived in Carmel since his boyhood, Allen Knight is thoroughly acquainted with the problems of our delightful little city, and is in agreement with the many persons who came to Carmel to make their home.

The writer has served with Mr. Knight upon one of the public boards and has confidence in his sound judgement, his co-operative spirit and his understanding of the wishes and interest of Carmel people. The consideration of the voters is confidently solicited.

Mayor McCreery Now Proprietor of Insurance Business

Mayor P. A. McCreery last week became the sole proprietor of the insurance business in which he has been associated with James Thoburn since the mayor first came to Carmel in 1932. He became manager of the business four years ago when Thoburn, who also served as mayor of Carmel at one time, moved to his ranch on the Mother Lode near Jamestown.

Thoburn still keeps his interest in the real estate business of the firm which McCreery conducts.

LETTERS ARE WONDERFUL

It was a splendid letter, from Italy, from a former Carmel man, Ted Rowe, now in the medical service over there somewhere. I felt honored to be allowed to share it. Two sentences reached out from all the details which could be told of the humorous, tragic, bitter, gay, beautiful happenings there; these sentences gripped my heart as I think they will grip yours, and move you to immediate action where so little counts for so much.

"Aren't letters wonderful?" the soldier letter said, "A letter from home makes you feel warmed and loved, even in this filthy cold and mud here." Warmed and loved! Think over those words. Imagine yourself an American boy. Maybe you've never traveled out of America. Maybe you've never been out of your home state. You're in a foreign land where almost everything is alien. In peaceful times you might enjoy it, but here the buildings, the food, the language of the people, the way they dress, the sound of their voices, it's all strange—and somehow menacing. You're way over here, fighting for something that has become somehow abstract, it isn't real. It's hard to make yourself believe that you're fighting for these people over in Europe because many of those people are suspicious and unfriendly. They're rightfully suspicious of "friends." Their own rulers, and the Nazis have said they were "friends"; and that's enough to give the word friend a black eye. . . so, you feel lost and like in a nightmare.

Then, there's a letter from home. THEN you know what it is you're fighting for; its for the things in that letter, the neighbors next door who have a boy in the Southwest Pacific. They brought over his letter and share it. There is mention in the letter of jars of your favorite preserves being held just for your return, spiced to your taste, with the spices and sugars managed somehow despite rationing. There were things not written but which you could read between the lines, unspoken anxieties about you, sadness covered up because the letters were to cheer you. Yes, letters are wonderful . . . when they're written. There is no medicine in the world better than letters from home to heal a heart that's gone sick from lonesomeness and discouragement and the sight of too much horror and pain.

When I read those two lines "Aren't letters wonderful? A letter from home makes you feel warmed and loved, even in this filthy cold and mud here." Well, I wanted to tramp on my lazy fingers for not having written ten times as often, to fellows scattered hither and yon.

So little doing so much; couple sheets of paper, a stamp, a little time, a little thoughtfulness . . . a lot of gratefulness to the ones over there, and someone is "loved and warmed, even in the filthy cold and mud over there."

Sunset School Notes

Paper Dolls

We are making Mexican dolls for the fiesta. They are made of newspaper. Their dresses are of crepe paper. We are going to sell them. We are going to give a puppet show, too. The fiesta is for Pan-American Day and it is April 14, 1944.

—Phoebe Wolfson, grade 2

The Pan American Fair

Miniature clay vases and bottles are some of the many articles being made by Miss Norman's sixth grade girls and boys. Other articles are little wooden shelves and paper envelopes with cut flower designs on them to hold note paper. Aprons are going to be made by Barbara Jean Templin, Ann Whitaker, Joan Sanders and Jerry Fay Yoakum. The things that all the classes make will be sold at the Pan American Fair. Money received for the articles will be given to the P.T.A. Welfare Fund.

—Cynthia Carr, grade 7

Pins and Trays

Do you know about that big Fair? If you come to Sunset school on April 14, 1944, you will see all the things that have been made by the children. Right now in our room we are making lapel pins and Mexican hat ash trays. Don't forget April 14th at Sunset school for that big Pan American Day Fair.

—Yvonne Biehl, grade 5

Big Show

Mrs. Uzzell's class is going to give a program in the auditorium for Pan American Day. There will be Spanish dances, and a man from Guatemala will sing. There will also be a boy to play the accordion all through the Fair.

The class is also making napkins with a block print on them, and South American tea bags with designs on them.

—Tommy Handley, grade 7

Candles

Miss Riley's fourth grade is making candles. They want red, yellow, and white candle stubs.

When they get these stubs they will melt them according to color. They received the idea from studying the pioneers of America. Mrs. Uzzell's boys are making star candlesticks for them. The money received by these articles will be given to the P.T.A. fund.

ABOUT TYPES OF FESTIVAL KITES

BY MALCOLM D. WHITMAN, JR.

I had a prodigious good time at the kite festival and came away with a pleasant, tired, wind-swept feeling backgrounded by an image of green grass with dancing things above it and people going and coming in some confusion through it. I found a grass stain on my knee, and felt at peace with it, and was irritated that I couldn't remember the face of a man whose interest had led him to bring many cameras, so much had my attention run to the flying, and the spinning things. For kites tend to spin and dive when the wind is high.

Kite strings make curves into the air, and from these curves a mathematically trained mind might well draw certain conclusions. I hardly think there was anyone at the festival interested in mathematical conclusions, as I neither saw a kite rigged to indicate the windspeed nor did anyone announce what the measured speed was. In the competitive climbing event, the ruling was that you had to use "flying line" which ruling acted mathematically against the performances of smaller, lighter kites, virtually eliminating them and discouraging further local practice with the smaller ones which I personally prefer because a fellow can then build and bring, without requiring a truck, several kites, competing in a number of events. The field showing also tends to be more compact and within range of the senses than with larger kites flown farther away.

Few advanced kites of any type were flown, and I remember only one which was stable enough to have been flown without a tail. Nor were many kites flown by adults. The large kite which supported a banner for the Carmel Fire Department, (Billy Burke's first prize winner) flew without a tail and was relatively an advanced kite, of a type called tetrahedral, and of design noted for stability. This type was originally developed by serious scientists who then purposed good stability together with better lift than for a box kite of like size, and used the type for raising early meteorological instruments and later, wireless antennae into the air. This type might be classified as a stable kite.

Now there might have been flown, last Saturday, along with the tetrahedral kite, a much more recent, stable kite, an autogiro. A commercial version of this type which I have owned at one time would have whistled furiously from its spinning rotor in the air, as there was sufficient wind to have made the rotor go around at prodigious speed on its ball bearings. It could also have maneuvered somewhat around the field, for jerking its string periodically causes it to lose lift and so settle down wind of you, but in general it is purposed to fly almost directly above and was designed for steadiness. The Fire Department was represented by the tetrahedral kite, and a fine sight it made. What group would like to be represented by an autogiro kite at the next festival?

Contrasting with stable flying kites there are types which make great sweeps through the air. These should not be flown at the same time as stable kites as there would be tangles and conflict. So there would be a need for organization and regulation, else both types cannot be flown effectively. One type of mobile or sweeping kite is the fighting kite, common in China and Japan. I know from experience that this type fitted with air whistles can make screaming dives at you, traveling at great speed in loops and zig zags, and also tacking somewhat across and up the wind, as it does when used for fighting, to engage and cut an opponent's string.

One kite flown at the festival did have a divey shape and buzzers on it, stemming from Oriental practices, but I personally feel that kites

POETRY

LOW BREEZE

*There is a gentle stillness in this hour
As each leaf stirs and separately lifts
Her green identity against the air
And leans in golden splendor to the sun.*

*The eddying whirls of movement
Sigh in radiance about you,
Fluid as flame, the breath of it,
Fluid as ripples,
Fluid as lost snow
Touching your cheek with quietness,
Blessing your hair
With loveliness and light and warmth.*

Good Summer, send Your scented motion flowing to my heart.

—MARGERY ALLYN BISHOP

CALIFORNIA SPRING

*Follow me, the path is bright
Where I scatter daffodils.
Lilies too are my delight,
A tapestry upon the hills.*

*Follow through the meadows waking
Plumes of lilac turning mauve—
Here the lupin I am taking Matches blue-bells through the grove.*

*Follow under willows swaying—
I bring larkspur, marigold—
Soon the children can go straying
Where the eager buds unfold.*

*Follow up the greening hilltops
Where I leave in pools of blue
Violets with fragrant dew-drops,
Wafting incense over you.*

—CORDRAY MAXWELL

TO THE NATURE POETS

*They point us back to trees; they praise the hills;
They speak of sea and sky with reverent breath;
Do they forget what destiny instills
The merest human life from birth to death?*

*How can a man be mountain, when there moves
A God within him, striving to be born?
His very lack of harmony but proves
The surging powers by which his soul is torn.*

*Give unto each the tribute of his worth;
Men are not less to God because they fail
To find the green perfection of the tree.
Who knows to what far galaxy, from earth
The echoes will be rung, if men prevail,
And from this chaos, wrest the spirit free?*

REVIEWS

of Oriental inspiration should be flown separately from other kites.

There is yet another group of kites worthy of consideration of kite enthusiasts; those derived from the tremendous recent strides in model airplane studies and practices which types are probably not so pretty as good Oriental kites made for art and effect, but which specialize in some novel performance. There are whirling wing bird kites, one of which has been on the commercial market. I haven't seen one fly, so don't know how they maneuver, nor whether they rate as stable or mobile. There are Flettner rotor kites which fly not with planes, but with tubes, on the principle by which a baseball curves. There is the Super Sinbad type, a six foot kite still on the market in kit form which can fly from side to side of the field downwind of you. It closely resembles a soaring glider. There is Tow Control with more than one line extending to the kite whereby the kite may be flown to any point on the field, even upwind of you, and can be made to release bombs at a target, or drop parachutes, gliders and pickaback kites which in turn can be controlled. Flying each of such types is a separate art, but one easily come by if one follows the instructions.

To develop a novel kite would be a lot of work and involve much experimentation, perhaps as much as to discover all over again the complicated Oriental tricks of flying for display, but to learn to fly one single established type expertly isn't much of a muchness, and should prove pleasing and interesting activity.

Which is why I would like to propose that we consider better establishing an exchange for kite know-how, where people could come by instruction in the body of practices and designers and select from them their preferred types. Miss Elizabeth Niles, Carmel librarian, informs me that this year, as in the past, there were set out at the Harrison Memorial Library, for the better direction of youngsters interested in making kites for the festival, several books containing instructions on kites, and has expressed a willingness to care for such instructions fitted for adults as people may care to contribute. She will even make a scrapbook of articles that Carmel kite enthusiasts may find in magazines and bring in to the library.

Next year, a division for proxy flyers of kites made by kite hobbyists elsewhere and sent to Carmel for exhibition flying, might be an interesting addition to the festival events. Eventually, the festival might become widely known as a gathering for kite experimentation and attract hobbyists from other localities such as an enthusiast I know who has a stable kite called the "Earwig." It carries a microphone up into the air and makes a recording of the sound waves that reach it. They say that bull frogs and railroad trains make the sound heard highest in the air. Still, I think if the festival crowd all yelled "Earwig," and the kite was hauled down, it might be interesting to hear how our voices sounded up there.

Some of the kites I have mentioned resemble airplanes, and indeed, a model airplane airframe flown successfully at the festival was ruled "model airplane" and not a kite. I am personally in favor of permitting kites to resemble airplanes as closely as the builder desires, for much of the newer kite discovery has come from airplane studies. I would draw the kite line taut, though, against any kite's carrying a gasoline motor or other power plant, making it independent of the action of the wind.

But what I remembered of the festival with most pleasure is a slight touch of windburn, which others were also speaking of as they left the field, and that people had given expression of their will to make some use of the airblow above us next year. And having had letters in

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Intramural Track

Last Friday another intramural track meet took place. This time it was a different story, with the Juniors placing first, but with the seniors hard on their heels. There was not an exceptional number of boys out, so high scoring among the individual athletes was not uncommon. Bruce King led the scoring with a 21 point harvest. The main events were the 220, 440, broad-jump, high-jump, discus, 100-yard dash, shot put and pole vault, although this had to be eliminated because of the lack of contestants. This Friday another track meet will take place and it is hoped more boys will turn out, as there is soon to be a meet with another school.

—Angelo Lucido

Senior Formal

The senior ball was a success, due largely to the spirit of the seniors, especially to the following students: head of decorations, Ann McElroy, refreshments, Everett May, Arnold Pilling cleaning up.

The dance was held in the school cafeteria last Saturday night. The decorations were exceedingly well done with the walls and ceiling draped with crepe paper and tables placed around the dance floor. There were candles on the tables, and the room was beautifully lighted. They kept in the spirit of the dance by selling cascarones. They were bought out and enjoyed by all. Refreshments were also sold. They had punch, cookies and cake. The refreshment committee should be congratulated on their fine work. Thanks go to the chaperons who were kind enough to come. They were: Mrs. Brey, Mr. and Mrs. Getsinger, Mrs. Pilling, Mrs. Henshaw, Mr. Rico and Mrs. Moller.

—Mary Jane Reel

Easter Vacation

Don't think we at Carmel Hi are suffering from "spring fever," because we're not. Nothing as trite or ordinary as that. This strange malady which affects us all is much more tremendous. The reason is simple—Easter vacation. The quarter grades are coming out and everyone is trying to reassure himself that quarter grades don't count anyway. The extra conscientious students are staying up late trying to get in overdue reports. There are very few souls as industrious as this however.

Would-be weathermen spend hours peering out the windows and pessimistically predicting rain for the next week. Everyone will enjoy this much needed rest for one wonderful week. Teachers, were very wise to give us an Easter vacation, for if they had not, the balmy weather would become too much for us and school would be abandoned for the rest of the year.

—Ann Pierce

Assembly

It seems that the whole of the female portion of Carmel Hi is now going to join the Women's Air Service Pilot Corps, commonly known as the WASPS. It seems that this is due to the talks given by Misses McKinley and Kumber in our cafeteria last Wednesday. These two WASPS are in town on a furlough from their job of ferrying planes back and forth over the world.

The stories the girls had to tell kept the audience interested, especially the one about "Icele Lane."

Apparently the WASP enlistment is closed for a while, so the girls will have to wait.

—Diana Daniells

Junior's Win

The sophomores with their last victory in back of them hoped they could win the G.A.A. basketball championship, but the juniors decided that they wouldn't lose this game and didn't. The score was 26 to 5. Both teams played a hard fast game but the juniors really did shine. The players for the sophomores were: Dorothy Goulart, Alice Morehouse, Willette Torras, Ann Hodgson, Carol Walker, Martha Moller, Joan Leary and Susan Walters. The junior players were: Nancy Fitzhugh, Alice Williamson, Joan Janda, Mary Jane Reel, Jo An Thorn, Caroline Cory, Florita Botts and Claire Warner. This game ended the girl's basketball season.

—Ann Hodgson

Bernice Fraser

Private funeral services were held on Wednesday at Paul's Mortuary in Pacific Grove, Dr. J. E. Crowther officiating, for Mrs. Bernice Fraser, aged 63, whose death occurred on the morning of Monday, March 27, in her home at Carmelo and Ocean avenue, following an illness of several months.

Mrs. Fraser and her husband, the late Alfred P. Fraser, came to Carmel from Stockton in 1913 and from the first took an active part in the life of the community. When Carmel was incorporated as a city, Alfred Fraser, lawyer by profession, served on the first board of trustees, later filling for many years the post of city manager as well as that of Carmel police judge.

Keenly interested in handcrafts, Mrs. Fraser opened the Fraser Looms in the middle '20s, and her shop continued for seventeen years to be one of the distinctive landmarks on Ocean avenue. Two years ago, when the supply of imported materials was curtailed by the war emergency, she closed her business and recently made a gift to the Carmel high school of her largest loom.

Mrs. Fraser is survived by no close relatives.

OFF TO WASHINGTON

Mr. Neil A. Gorman departed on Monday for Washington, D. C., to resume his post with the Cal-Tex company after spending the past three months with his family in Carmel. Mr. Gorman, who formerly was stationed as Cal-Tex representative in Tien Tsin, was interned by the Japanese at the outbreak of war first in the British Concession and later in a concentration camp in Shantung Province. He returned as an exchange prisoner on the Gripsholm, landing in New York on December 1, 1943. Mrs. Gorman and their four children, Dennis, Patricia and the twins, Janet and Jeffrey, plan to rejoin Mr. Gorman in Washington sometime in May.

P. G. and E. ELECTRIC CAPACITY
EXCEEDS that of
GRAND COULEE and BONNEVILLE

Combined

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID about the large electric power projects of the Federal government—Bonneville and Grand Coulee in Washington and Oregon, Boulder Dam on the Colorado River.

They have been widely publicized for the contribution they have made to war production—for the power they have provided for industry, commerce and agriculture on the Pacific Coast.

But the fact is that the P. G. and E. has much greater installed capacity, including purchased power, than any of these Federal projects—48.7 per cent more than Bonneville and Grand Coulee combined, 89.7 per cent more than Boulder Dam.

During 1943 the P. G. and E. supplied power to approximately 27,000 industrial plants and affiliated operations. Bonneville and Grand Coulee together served only fifteen, six of which are aluminum.

P. G. and E. power went to 40 shipyards and allied plants, 33 iron and steel plants, 4 magnesium plants, 7 cement plants, 126 food processing plants, and more than 26,700 smaller industrial plants. P. G. and E. also served 80 military and other governmental establishments; Bonneville and Grand Coulee served 15.

All this in addition to taking care of the normal requirements of more than a million regular customers in the home, in business and on the farm. Such is the achievement of free enterprise.

Always building ahead, soon we will add the 65th generating plant to our fast-flung system—Pit No. 5, the largest hydroelectric powerhouse in the network.

Sixty-five power plants to speed victory, to serve a growing population, to keep northern and central California prosperous and great in the postwar period!

Beaton-Ward Nuptials

Before the altar of the Church of the Wayfarer, white with calla lilies and gleaming tapers, Miss Katherine Beaton was married to Ensign Walter P. Ward, U.S.N.R., in a ceremony performed by Rev. J. E. Crowther at 5:30 on Sunday, March 26.

The bride, attired in an afternoon frock of crepe, aqua blue to match her eyes, with a tiny half-hat and veil of brown, brown accessories and a corsage of green and brown orchids, was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Matthew Beaton. Maid of honor was her only sister, Miss Elise Beaton, wearing an afternoon dress of beige crepe, a powder blue half-hat and veil, brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. Best man was Mr. Claud Giles of San Mateo.

Mrs. Matthew Beaton wore a brown afternoon crepe, with blue trim, brown accessories and talisman roses. Mrs. Hubert H. Ward of Palo Alto, mother of the groom, also attended, wearing sapphire blue lace, a small blue toque and a corsage of gardenias.

At the console of the organ for the playing of Because and the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches was Miss Margaret Sherman Lea.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party, composed of family members and a few close friends, numbering fourteen in all, had dinner at Del Monte Lodge, where the table, decked in calla lilies and candles, with its traditional cake, topped by a miniature naval officer and bride, was set on the veranda, and gardenias were presented to each of the ladies. Present for the occasion in addition to the groom's mother and the bride's immediate family, were her two college friends, Miss Patricia Lynch of San Francisco and Miss Anne Stickle, post-graduate student at the University of California; Mr. and Mrs. Claud Giles; Ensign Ward's aunt, Miss Florence Calderwood of Palo Alto, Mrs. Beaton's sister, Mrs. Katherine Ross of San Francisco, Miss Barbara Dawson of Monterey and Dr. J. E. Crowther.

The new Mrs. Ward graduated from Sunset school and Monterey high and completed her studies at the University of California with the class of '42. She was a junior accountant in the firm of Lybrand, Ross Bros. and Montgomery in San Francisco, with whom Ensign Ward was employed as senior accountant prior to his entrance into the Navy, and where Mr. Claud Giles was employed as their supervisor.

Ensign Ward graduated from Stanford University with the class of '38 and completed his course at the Naval Officers' Supply school in Boston in time to catch a plane and arrive in Carmel last Thursday. The young couple departed on a two-weeks' honeymoon following the wedding dinner, and their future plans will be made in accord with Ensign Ward's assignment to duty.

The engagement of the bride's sister, Miss Elise Beaton, to Captain Ivon F. Klohe was announced last June. Captain Klohe is at present serving with the U. S. Army Air Force in England.

Gargiulo Completes Course

Pvt. Edward S. Gargiulo, Jr., son of Mr. Edward S. Gargiulo of Scenic and Ocean has recently completed his training course in Radio Mechanics at the Technical School, Army Air Forces Technical Training Command, Traux Field, Madison, Wisconsin. He is now prepared to join a Base Opportunity Group or any other duties to which the AAF Training Command may assign him.

Haussermanns Depart

Mrs. John Haussermann, Jr., accompanied by her two sons, John III, and Shelby, her grandmother and the children's Chinese amah, left on Friday for Apple Trees, the Haussermann home in Mt. Kisco, New York, after spending the past year in Carmel. Enroute, they will stop in Cincinnati for a series of concerts beginning today, at which John Haussermann's second symphony is to be played. Mrs. Haussermann's famous composer husband has visited Carmel twice during his family's stay here, the last occasion being over the Christmas holidays.

Easter Wedding Planned

The Church of the Wayfarer has been chosen as the setting on Easter Sunday, April 9, for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth McAuley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Martin McAuley of Monterey, and Mr. Rudolph Stach of San Mateo. Dr. J. E. Crowther will officiate at the ceremony and a reception will follow at the Casa Pacheco, Monterey home of the bride-to-be. Attendants will be Mrs. Angus H. Griffin, the former Myrtle Hansen of Monterey, as matron of honor, Mr. Walter Herzog of San Francisco as best man, the bride-elect's niece and goddaughter, Marion Cadigan and Marlo Griffin, as flower girls.

Mrs. H. J. Morse, accompanied by two friends, spent the past week at her cottage in Paradise Park, on spring vacation from her post on the faculty of the Catherine Branson school in Ross.

Janet Graham Weds

The wedding of Janet Curtis Graham, Yeoman 2nd cl. in the WAVES, and Harry Leslie Anderson, Jr., Seaman 2nd cl., U.S.N.R., took place on the afternoon of Saturday, March 18, in the Navy chapel on North Island, San Diego, the ceremony performed by Chaplain Belford, U.S.N.R.

The uniformed bride was attended by Miss Clara Conrad, also a Yeoman 2nd cl. in the WAVES, and best man was Seaman 2nd cl. Frank Hood, U.S.N.R. Present for the wedding and the dinner which followed at the El Cortez Hotel in San Diego, were the bride's mother, Mrs. Julian P. Graham, her sister Mrs. William Robertson, her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. P. Graham, Jr., the former Miss Rosemary Baker, and Mrs. William Fossatt, a friend of the family. The bride's father Mr. Julian Pitzer Graham, Carmel photographer, had been called to San Francisco on business and was unable to attend the ceremonies.

The new Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of Sunset school and Monterey high school and left her studies at San Jose State College last May to enter the WAVES, taking her basic training at Hunter College, New York. Her brother, Julian P. Graham, Jr., is serving as radar technician on an airplane carrier which has received a Presidential citation for participation in all the major naval engagements in the South Pacific since the outbreak of the war.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Anderson of Santa Maria. Following his graduation from the Santa Maria schools he attended the University of Southern California for three years prior to his enlistment in the Navy.

The young couple will make their home in San Diego for the present.

Mrs. Jordan Home

Estelle Billington to Wed

The surprise element of a party last Wednesday night was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Estelle Billington, popular faculty member at Sunset school, and Corporal James Fontana, U.S. Army, the news being revealed on attractive cards hidden on the refreshment trays. The party was ostensibly a regular meeting of the "Knit Wits," at the home of Mrs. Jean Duygou, and invited guests were: Misses Hazel Sener, Jeanne Staffelbach, Eleteth McQuilkin, Stella Schnabel, Bernice Riley, Marian Adams, Blanche Walsh, Harriet Sheldon, Dorothy Recht, Mary McNamara, Estelle Billington, and the Mesdames Edna Lockwood, Helen Wood, Anna Kohner, Frances Johnson, Jane Doerr and Claire Duygou.

The bride-elect is a native of South Dakota and a graduate of the San Jose State College and has been a member of the Sunset school faculty for the past four years, in charge of the first graders.

Corporal James Fontana is serving as a psychologist with the U. S. Army at the Presidio of Monterey, having entered the service from Chicago, where he was the director of the city's recreational program for young people. He is at present giving valuable assistance to the Carmel P.T.A. in the planning of its 'teen age recreation club.

The wedding of Miss Billington and Corporal Fontana will take place on June 11th at the Church of the Wayfarer.

John Todd to S. F.

Seaman 1st class John Todd, U. S. N., who recently completed his boot camp training at Faragut, Idaho, reported for duty at his new station in San Francisco over the past weekend.

Gala Gallery Tea

Between four and five hundred art enthusiasts donned their Easter bonnets and congregated at the Carmel Art Association gallery last Sunday afternoon to make the reception in honor of Martin Gambee and his current exhibit of water colors in the George F. Beardsley Memorial room a huge success. Mrs. Gambee and 'teen age Anne were a strikingly attractive mother-and-daughter combination in matching peasant jumper dresses of vivid red and navy blue. Assisting as hostesses were Miss Margot Oliver and Mesdames John Pasmore, T. A. Larson, Donald Craig, Leon Kotzebue, Lawrence Quinn, Waldo Fish, Robert Peck, Myron Oliver, Martin Baer, Joseph Raney, John Cunningham and Parker Hall (Maxine Albro). Rendering nimble aid with the trays of delicious punch, cookies and cakes was a youthful contingent composed of Anne Gambee, Mary Gregory, Charlotte Finger, Frank Gambee, Bill Finger and little Linda Cass.

The Alvin Bellers Here

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Beller paid a brief visit this week to Carmel and their many friends here, making their headquarters at Colonial Terrace. They are living at present in San Diego, where Mr. Beller is engaged in government work.

Del Monte Wedding

Miss Mary Louise Henning became the bride of Daniel G. MacMurphy in a simple ceremony performed at St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, on Thursday, March 16, with Rev. Theodore Bell officiating. Mrs. Harry Leonard, whose husband, Lt. Harry Leonard, is an old friend of the groom, served as matron of honor and Hap Hasty was best man.

The new Mrs. MacMurphy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Henning of Beverly Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert MacMurphy of Tampa, Florida are the parents of the groom. Following a honeymoon spent in Carmel, the young couple left for Oakland, where they will remain until Mr. MacMurphy reports for active sea duty, at which time the bride will return to make her home here.

Mrs. Vickery to Speak

The speaker at the next luncheon of All Saints' Women's Auxiliary, to be held at 12:30 on Wednesday, April 5th, will be Mrs. Robert K. Vickery, prominent churchwoman of Berkeley, where she has been associated with St. Margaret's Home. Before her marriage she was head of the Y.W.C.A. in that city. As this Meeting is in Holy Week, the address will be devotional in character. The subject is Some Practical Implications of Holy Week. Those who wish to attend the luncheon at All Saints' Parish House should telephone Mrs. Hulsewe, Carmel 230, not later than Monday evening, April 3.

Phoenix Holiday

When Martin Gambee departs today for Arizona, to resume his training as an air pilot, he will be accompanied by Mrs. Gambee, his son Frank and daughter Anne, who plan to spend the Easter vacation with him in Phoenix.

Bill Christensen in Air Transport

Bill Christensen, who graduated in last year's class from Carmel high school, has completed his V-12 training at Minot, North Dakota, and has been transferred to Air Transport service on the west coast.

Warsawskys to Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Abel G. Warsawsky are leaving today for Mexico, where they plan to remain for the next five months, during which they will be the guests of Mr. Warsawsky's pupil, Fidele Figueroa and his wife in Taxco.

Melvon Kastor, March 26

Melvon Rance Kastor was born at the Community Hospital on Sunday, March 26, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvon C. Kastor of Monte Verde and Fifth street.

Junior League Register

In order to establish a contact between members, both active and former, of the national Junior League, now residing in Carmel, Mrs. Joseph Wells, who in 1922 helped to organize the Junior League of Lincoln Nebraska, has opened a register at the Wishing Wells' Lending Library in the Seven Arts building on Lincoln street.

Exhibit at All Saints'

An exhibit of silver, pewter and colored glass has been planned by the ladies of All Saints' Church, to be held on May 3 and 4 in the Parish House. Luncheon, in charge of Mrs. L. A. Quinn and her committee, will be served on both days at 12:30. Chairman of the event is Mrs. C. F. H. Jarvis, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Hargrave, and the committee busily working for its success is composed of Mrs. V. P. Millis, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Whitney Palache, Mrs. Walter Nielsen, Mrs. F. R. Hall, Mrs. R. R. Wallace, Miss Flora Stewart, Mrs. Leon Fisher, Mrs. J. W. Dickinson, and Mrs. J. F. Gray. It is requested that any who have exhibits to enter will telephone to Mrs. C. F. H. Jarvis, Carmel 723-J, or to Mrs. C. J. Hulsewe.

Lt. Wood on Leave

Lieutenant Barbara Wood, U. S. Navy, who left her post at the Harrison Memorial Library to enter the WAVES, arrives today from Washington, D. C., where she has been stationed in the administrative office, to pay a brief visit to her old friends in Carmel. Traveling by Navy plane as far as San Diego, Lt. Wood stopped over for several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wood of Santa Paula and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood of Soledad.

Mrs. Shnell to Speak

At its next meeting, on Monday, April 3, at 2 p.m. the Carmel Woman's club will have the opportunity of hearing a talk by Mrs. Mildred Hallows Shnell, noted traveler and commentator on international affairs, whose topic will be South Africa. Mrs. Shnell is an authority on the African colonies, having been behind the scenes in Italy in 1936, previous to and during the conquest of Ethiopia. She was in Franco's stronghold in the Canary Islands during the Spanish civil war and had a terrifyingly narrow escape upon her first visit to Dakar. Through her acquaintance with many of the leading personalities in the Union of South Africa, Mrs. Shnell has gained an insight into that nation's racial, economic and political problems. In her opinion, the colonies of Africa will constitute the prize of the victor in the present war. Her abilities as a speaker and the value of her material are attested by the fact that she is the second woman to be accorded the distinction of an invitation to address the world-famous Adventurers' Club.

Home From Chicago

Miss Bertha Bowen returned to Carmel last week from an extended visit with her sisters in Chicago. On her return trip Miss Bowen stopped in many places along the Santa Fe route, including Santa Fe, Flagstaff, Albuquerque and Los Angeles.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Next Sunday, Palm Sunday, at 8 a.m., the Service of the Holy Communion. At 9:30 a.m. the Church School and at 11:00 a.m. a Choral Holy Communion Service with sermon message by the Rector, Rev. C. J. Hulsewe. Offertory Anthem: "Praise the Lord Through Every Nation," J. S. Bach. The traditional Palm Sunday hymns will be part of this service and Palm crosses will be distributed to those in attendance. The full Vested Choir will participate in this service and the organist, Alice Lee Keith, has arranged appropriate organ selections. On Maundy Thursday, April 6, 10:30 a.m., Service of the Holy Communion and on Good Friday, 12:00 noon-3:00 p.m. the Three Hour Service with addresses by Dr. J. E. Crowther and Rev. C. J. Hulsewe, theme, "His Cross and Ours." Special Intercessions for the men and women in the services of our country at each Worship Service. Visitors to Carmel are invited to come and worship in this House of Prayer for All People.

CHURCH OF THE WAYFARER

The sermon theme for the Palm Sunday service next Sunday at the Church of the Wayfarer will be "Thy King Cometh." The service begins at 11:00; visitors are cordially invited.

There will be a public Communion Service from 8:00 to 9:00 on Maundy Thursday, April 6, to which all are cordially invited that we may prepare for the Reverent Observance of Good Friday.

Our congregation will share in the Three Hour Service on Good Friday in All Saints' Episcopal Church from 12 noon to 3 p.m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel." These words from Jeremiah comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, April 2, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Unreality."

Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?" (Ps. 27:1).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The understanding, even in a degree, of the divine All-power destroys fear, and plants the feet in the true path,—the path which leads to the house

Fire Department Testing Hydrants, Making New Sign

Recent activities, practical and aesthetic, of the Carmel Fire Department, have been a thorough testing of fire hydrants throughout town on drill night, and work on a new sign to hang on the fire house.

The sign, made out of natural redwood which has been first burned, then submitted to the wire brush treatment, is sixteen feet long, longer than the firemen had anticipated when they first proposed its construction, as they found it would be necessary to carve the full name, "Carmel-by-the-Sea Fire Station" followed by the 1937 which is the year the present building was completed, though the department was founded in 1915. The carving done by various members whenever they had any spare time, is now finished. The sign has been treated to its second coat of varnish and should be ready to hang within a week or so.

Hydrant testing has been carried on during the last two Thursday night drills and has revealed that some repair is going to be necessary as some of the hydrants were found to be "frozen" from long disuse. Fifty hydrants have been tested so far and the work will continue until all the hydrants in town have been checked.

TWO FIRE CALLS

A chimney fire in the Elder's House, now occupied by A. E. Gregory, brought out the fire department March 27 at 7:45 p.m. No damage resulted.

The department was called out again March 28 at 6:35 a.m. when Elias Houck, Seaside, discovered a short circuit in his truck at Carpenter and Second. The difficulty was remedied with no damage to the vehicle.

built without hands 'eternal in the heavens,' (p. 454).

HOLY WEEK AT THE MISSION

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday, the day on which the Christian world ushers in Holy Week. The palms will be solemnly blessed at the eight o'clock mass by the Rev. Michael D. O'Connell. Each person will receive a palm branch after each mass.

A week's spiritual retreat will begin at the eleven o'clock mass. The Rev. Father O'Neill from New York will conduct the various exercises of the retreat during the week. There will be mass each morning at eight-thirty, followed by an instruction. Each evening at seven-thirty there will be rosary, sermon, and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Confessions each morning and evening so as to avoid the large crowds who wish to confess and receive at Easter time.

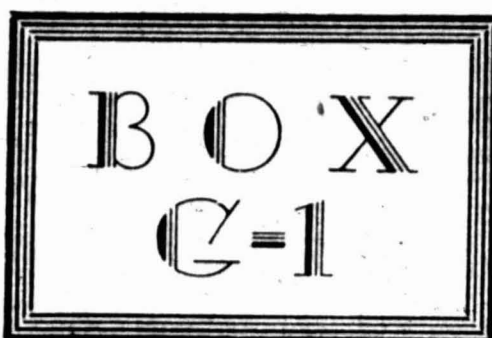

On Holy Thursday there will be a high mass at eight-thirty. The missionary catechists have trained the junior choir to sing the mass. After the mass, the Blessed Sacrament will be taken in procession to the side chapel to repose for adoration during the day. Thursday evening at seven-thirty the Holy Hour will be conducted by Fr. O'Neill.

Good Friday the mass of the Pre-Sanctified at eight-thirty, followed by the adoration of the cross. At twelve noon the beautiful devotion of the Three Hours conducted by Fr. O'Neill and Fr. O'Connell, at the end of which the Body of the Christ will be taken down from the cross and taken by vested men to the side chapel. This is truly a most impressive ceremony and people have come from all over to witness it.

Box G-1,

Dear Sir:

May I call your attention to a breach of good taste appearing in your issue of March 24th? Of course, it was unknowingly committed. Mentioning the old gentleman, Manuel Onesimo, in a death notice, you called him by a frivolous nickname, "Panoche." Years ago he was playfully dubbed, "The Candy Kid." Later, this became simply the name of the candy, but such name is out of place in a death notice.

In the same column, you propose to name a tanker "Mission Carmel" while the Mission is at Carmel, the name of it is, the Mission of San Carlos. Would it not be more correct to give it this name instead of the one proposed?

Very respectfully,
L. S. Slevin

The Pine Cone intended no disrespect in calling Manuel Onesimo "Panoche." We think the nickname indicates the affection with which he was regarded by the old timers, one of whom is the above writer. We are grateful to Mr. Slevin for telling us how the nickname came into being.

As for the naming of the tanker, "Mission Carmel," had we had the choosing of the name, we certainly should have picked the correct one. However, we can understand Marinship's so naming it, as it is one of a series of "Mission" ships and they probably feel that in the interest of uniformity it is better to call them all "Mission—" followed by the place name. —W. C.

350 Names Now on A.W.V.S. Register

The Service Wives' Information Center, a project of the Carmel A.W.V.S., was officially launched last Monday in the new office at Pine Inn.

Approximately 350 names appear on the roster of Carmel service families and the list is steadily increasing as people come in to register. All wives of officers and enlisted men are urged to take advantage of this service, thus enabling their friends to locate them, as there is no Travelers' Aid in Carmel.

An attempt will be made to help service wives find temporary rooms, and any resident of Carmel having a room or guest house not in use is asked to list it with the A.W.V.S. at the office, or telephone Carmel 1050.

New Melodrama at First Theatre

The Troupers of the Gold Coast, of the First Theatre, Monterey, will open in the famous melodrama, "After Dark," directed by Wilma Bott, on April 22. The current production, "Steve's Pal," suffered an untimely close last week, due to the sudden call to Santa Rosa of Darwin Law, who was carrying the title role. Darwin, in the employ of the Telephone Company, received an assignment which took him immediately and indefinitely out of town, and so, with two final packed houses and a gala farewell to Darwin, the Troupers rang down the curtain on "Steve's Pal" last Sunday evening.

A large, enthusiastic and strong cast is rehearsing the coming show, many of the "Steve" cast going into "After Dark," with several new members signed up. There will then be no show at the First Theatre, Monterey, for the next three week-ends, the time being spent on intensive rehearsals for "After Dark," which will open on April 22.

Editorials...

Two high school students looked up from the complicated kite frames they were working on. Mr. Calley finished explaining to a kindergartner how to paste paper on a little diamond shaped job he was completing.

"What kind of kite do you want to make?"

"One that will fly," she suggested practically.

Perceiving that she had neither any preconceived notions nor any knowledge whatsoever of the business in hand, he indicated one of a collection of kites hanging along the wall and dangling from posts.

"That one flew successfully in the festival last year," and handed her some sticks. "Plane them down to the size of the sticks of the model." Then seeing that she had no preconceived notions about the use of a plane, either, he showed her how. She set to work with more enthusiasm than skill but, what with unabated industry, kindly coaching, frequent stops to study the model, and skipping lunch, in three hours she had a kite. A week later, when she found time to take her kite for its trial flight, and saw it soar into the air like an angel, felt it tug fiercely on its string as it rode gallantly on the wind, she was filled with a pride the like of which she had not known in many years. "At last," she cried, "I have made something that works!"

Next year she is going to enter a kite as big as she is.

And the year after that, after she has satisfied the urge for mere size, she is going to attempt something intricate, original and wonderful to behold.

If this ambition to build greater and finer kites were the only result of her first kite making experience, all would be well, but like most converts to a new faith, she is now seized with the missionary spirit and wants others to share in her enthusiasm. She here appeals to those adults at the kite festival who murmured, "I wish I had—" to rally around and form a Kite Fanciers' Club, so that when kite festival rolls around again there will be a large and interesting exhibit from the adults. Another reason for organizing such a body is that kite making requires a certain amount of equipment, namely a plane and a coping saw. Also, it's much more convenient to center kite making operations on a carpenter's bench than on the kitchen floor. All necessary equipment is available at the Sunset shop, but if adults want to use it for kite making at any time other than a few Saturdays before the festival, they will have to do so under the auspices of Adult School. To have the blessing of Adult School and coaching from an expert such as Mr. Calley, it is necessary that more than one or two enthusiasts put in an appearance, hence the need of a club.

And if anyone believes that kite making is too small and trivial an activity to serve as the whole interest of a handicraft group, we refer him to an article by Malcolm Whitman, Jr. on the Feature Page of this issue in which just some of the possibilities of kite making as a hobby are explored.

Knitters Invited To Call for New Wool at "Bundles"

The friends of Bundles for Britain in Carmel and Monterey who have so faithfully knitted for the organization may be glad to learn that the garments they have made, with thousands of others, have helped to outfit the personnel of the Royal British Navy and Royal Aircraft ships, among them Baby Flat Tops (ACV and CVE); Landing Craft for Infantry (LCI); Landing Ship Tanks (LST); and Landing Ship Docks (LSD).

These garments will be worn by men fighting side by side with American soldiers when the great invasion comes. Bundles members were especially glad to hear that there had been enough knitted comforts to supply the Royal Hellenic Navy of our heroic allies, the long-suffering Greek patriots. But all this has depleted the stocks and there is again special need of knitters. Bundles for Britain is glad to say that they have just received new supplies of wool, which can be had at their Dolores street Thrift Shop, next door to the Western Union.
